Freedom of formality

The Swiss Code of Obligations does in general not demand a special form to conclude a contract (art. 11 para. 1 CO). A contract may therefore be concluded orally or even without using words but by a consenting behaviour. There are a few exceptions where a special form is provided by law, examples are:

- A labour contract with an apprentice has to be «done in writing» (art. 344a CO).
- A sales contract about real estate. It’s not only provided, that this contract has to be in written form, it even has to be «done as a public deed» (art. 216 CO).

Freedom to terminate or alter a contract

Freedom to conclude any kind of contract regardless of whether or not it’s one of the individual types of contracts in the second division of the CO
Conclusion of the contract, art. 1 CO

«¹The conclusion of a contract requires a mutual expression of intent by the parties.»

«²The expression of intent may be express or implied.»

Consensus
The parties must consent in every basic point of the contract. Less important points may be left open.

Contract of sales, art. 185 CO:

- Basic points that have to be determined: the price of the good and the good itself.
- Less important points may be for example: the place or the time of fulfillment of the contract.

3. Interpretation of a contract

Subjective Interpretation: Principle of will, art. 18 para. 1 CO

«1[...] the true and common intention of the parties must be ascertained without dwelling on any inexact expressions or designations they may have used either in error or by way of disguising the true nature of the agreement»

Objective Interpretation: Principle of good faith (non-codified principle)

A declaration of intention is understood the way the other party of the contract could and did in good faith understand it.

Acting in good faith, art. 2 CC (Code Civil)

«1 Every person must act in good faith in the exercise of his or her rights and in the performance of his or her obligations.»
Nullity, art. 20 CO

«¹ A contract is void if its terms are impossible, unlawful or immoral.»

«² However, where the defect pertains only to certain terms of a contract, those terms alone are void unless there is cause to assume that the contract would not have been concluded without them.»

Formal requirements and significance in general, art. 11 CO

«¹ The validity of a contract is not subject to compliance with any particular form unless a particular form is prescribed by law.»

«² In the absence of any provision to the contrary on the significance and effect of formal requirements prescribed by law, the contract is valid only if such requirements are satisfied.»

Unfair advantage

art. 21 CO, unfair advantage

Error

art. 23 CO, error

«¹ A party labouring under fundamental error when entering into a contract is not bound by that contract.»

Fraud

art. 28 CO, fraud

«¹ A party induced to enter into a contract by the fraud of the other party is not bound by it even if his error is not fundamental.»

Duress

art. 29 CO, consent to contract

«¹ Where a party has entered into a contract under duress from the other party or a third party, he is not bound by that contract.»

art. 30 CO, definition of duress

Consequence of an error, fraud or duress:

Defect of consent negated by ratification of the contract, art. 31 CO

«1 Where the party acting under error, fraud or duress neither declares to the other party that he intends not to honour the contract nor seeks restitution for the performance made within one year, the contract is deemed to have been ratified.»

Non-commercial agency (arts. 32-40 CO)

- contracts may not only be concluded by the parties themselves but also by an agent
- not to confound with a commercial agency (arts. 458-465 and 348b)

Two types of non-commercial agency in the Swiss Contract Law:

- The agent acts in the party’s name and for account of the represented party (art. 32 para. 1 CO).
- The agent acts in his own name but for account of the represented party (art. 38 para. 1 CO).
6. Non-commercial agency (II/II)

The agent needs to be authorized by the represented person. The extent of authority depends on the type of authorization:

Scope of authority, art. 33 CO

«1 Where authority to act on behalf of another stems from relationships established under public law, it is governed by the public law provisions of the Confederation or the cantons.»

«2 Where such authority is conferred by means of the transaction itself, its scope is determined by that transaction.»

Failure to ratify, art. 39 CO

«1 Where ratification is expressly or implicitly refused, action may be brought against the person who acted as agent for compensation in respect of any damage caused by the extinction of the contract unless he can prove that the other party knew or should have known that he lacked the proper authority.»

Where a person without authority enters into a contract on behalf of a third party, rights and obligations do not accrue to the latter unless he ratifies the contract (thus art. 38 para. 1 CO).
Swiss Contract Law
7. Breach of a contract (I/IV)

Obligor’s duty to compensate – in general, art. 97 CO

«1 An obligor who fails to discharge an obligation at all or as required must make amends for the resulting loss or damage unless he can prove that he was not at fault.»
Swiss Contract Law
7. Breach of a contract (II/IV)

Suppositions for a liability after art. 97 CO:

1. damage

2. breach of a contract

3. causality between the damage and the breach

4. misconduct attributable to the obligor (assumed)
Default, arts. 102 et seqq. CO

Requirement, art. 102 CO

«¹ Where an obligation is due, the obligor is in default as soon as he receives a formal reminder from the obligee.»

«² Where a deadline for performance of the obligation has been set by agreement or as a result of a duly exercised right of termination reserved by one party, the obligor is automatically in default on expiry of the deadline.»
Swiss Contract Law
7. Breach of a contract (IV/IV)

no performance rendered reminder provided (CO 102 I) reminder not necess.(CO 102 II)

default

new time limit (CO 107 I)

no need for a new time limit (CO 108)

8. Quasi-contractual obligations (I/II)

Suppositions for a liability after inspired confidence, bared on trust:

1. damage

2. supposition «breach of contract» for a liability after Art. 97 CO is replaced by:
   - special juridical connection
   - creation of inspired confidence, bared on trust that merits to be protected
   - violation of inspired confidence, bared on trust that merits to be protected

3. causality between 1. and 2.

4. misconduct attributable to the obligor
Swiss Contract Law

8. Quasi-contractual obligations (II/II)

Suppositions for a liability after Culpa in contrahendo (precontractual liability):

9. Obligations in tort

The paradigm «tort» consists of an act or omission by the defendant which causes damage to the claimant. The damage must be caused by the fault of the defendant and must be a kind of harm recognized as attracting legal liability.

arts. 41-61 CO

General principles – conditions of liability, art. 41 CO

«¹ A person who unlawfully causes loss or damage to another, whether willfully or negligently, is obliged to provide compensation.»

- damage
- illegality
- causality between the damage and the illegality
- misconduct attributable to the defendant
No one shall be enriched by assets of someone else if there’s no reason for the enrichment.

arts. 62-67 CO

- suppositions for a restitution after art. 62 CO

Requirement – in general, art. 62 CO

«1 A person who has enriched himself without just cause at the expense of another is obliged to make restitution.»

- enrichment of one person
- (loss of property/assets of another person)
- no justification for the enrichment

11. Order of «testing» claims

- Contractual claims
- Quasi-contractual claims
- Property law claims (CC)
- Obligations in tort
- Unjust enrichment claims

Codified contracts

- sale and exchange (arts. 184-238 CO)
- gifts (arts. 239-252 CO)
- lease and usufructuary lease (arts. 253-304 CO)
- loan (arts. 305-318 CO)
- employment contract (arts. 319-362 CO)
- contract for work and services (arts. 363-379 CO)
- publishing contract (arts. 380-393 CO)
- agency contracts (arts. 394-418 CO)
- agency without authority (arts. 419-424 CO)
- commission contract (arts. 425-439 CO)
- contract of carriage (arts. 440-457 CO)
- payment instruction (arts. 466-471 CO)
- contract of bailment (arts. 472-491)
- contract of surety (arts. 492-512 CO)
- gambling and betting (arts. 513-515 CO)
- life annuity contract and lifetime maintenance agreement (arts. 516-529 CO)
Non codified contracts

As for the freedom of contracts, every kind of contract may be concluded as far as its content is legal. Over time there have been built several new kinds of contracts, not provided in the CO.

To handle these contracts, the judges sometimes refer to rules from similar codified contracts or they build new rules for these special kinds of non-codified contracts.

Examples:

- «leasing» contract (which is not the same as a lease contract)
- franchise contract
- licence contract
- sponsoring contract
Example for a codified contract:

Rights and obligations of the parties in general, art. 184 CO

«¹ A contract of sale is a contract whereby the seller undertakes to deliver the item sold and transfer ownership of it to the buyer in return for the sale price, which the buyer undertakes to pay to the seller.»

«² Unless otherwise provided by agreement or custom, the seller and the buyer are obliged to discharge their obligations simultaneously quid pro quo.»

«³ The price is deemed sufficiently determined where it can be determined from the circumstances.»

Example for a non codified contract:

«Leasing» contract

Definition after the jurisdiction on leasing contracts:

A «lessor» passes a movable or immovable object to a „lessee“ in order to let the latter use it for a certain period of time. The «lessee» pays an interest/rent and for the maintenance of the object and he has to bear the risk of loss/demolition of the object. The property right remains with the «lessor».

Swiss Company Law
1. Definition of the term «company»

An association of persons on a contractual basis pursuing a common purpose

association of persons
- simple partnership: at least 2 persons
- cooperative: at least 7 persons

contractual basis
the associates conclude a «partnership contract»

common purpose
the subject term of a partnership contract is the common purpose of the associates
Which type to choose depends on the intentions and interests of the partners.

Closed number of company forms

There are seven different types of business associations, all to find in the Swiss Code of Obligations.

Unlike Swiss Contract Law, Swiss Company Law does not provide freedom to build any kind of company with its own provisions.

People are bound to choose from the types the law is offering.

4. Legal entity, legal capacity and capacity to act (I/III)

Natural Person or Physical Person

Legal capacity
art. 11 CC (Civil Code)

Personality in general – legal capacity, art. 11 CC

«1 Every person has legal capacity.»
«2 Accordingly, within the limits of the law, every person has the same capacity to have rights and obligations.»

Legal Entity or Legal Person

Legal capacity
art. 53 CC (Civil Code)

Legal Entities – legal capacity, art. 53 CC

«Legal entities have all the rights and duties other than those which presuppose intrinsically human attributes, such as gender, age or kinship.»
Legal Entities: Capacity to act

Requirements, art. 54 CC

«Legal entities have capacity to act once the governing bodies required by law and their articles of association have been appointed.»

Action on behalf of the legal entity, art. 55 CC

«1 The governing bodies express the will of the legal entity.»

«2 They bind the legal entity by concluding transactions and by their other actions.»

«3 The governing officers are also personally liable for their wrongful acts.»
Legal entities have legal standing in the eyes of law. A legal entity:

- can enter into agreements or contracts;
- can assume obligations;
- can incur and pay debts;
- can sue and be sued in its own right;
- can be held responsible for its actions.
Swiss Company Law

5. Commercial register

- public register administered by the government, legislated in the Ordinance on the Commercial Register (No. 221.411)
- purpose: to provide important informations on legal entities such as their name, legal form, registered seat, amount of capital, names of the executives
- commercial register extracts may be required by anyone on any company (www.zefix.ch)
- new admissions and modifications of inscriptions are published in the Swiss Official Gazette of Commerce (www.sogc.ch)
General provisions, art. 944 CO

«In addition to the essential content required by law, each business name may contain information which serves to describe the persons mentioned in greater detail, an allusion to the nature of the company or an invented name provided that the content of the business name is truthful, cannot be misleading and does not run counter to any public interest.»

Companies limited by shares, limited liability companies and cooperatives, art. 950 CO

«Companies limited by shares, limited liability companies and cooperatives may choose their business names freely, subject to the general principles of business name composition. The business name must however indicate the legal form.»
Protection of business names, art. 956 CO

«² A party whose interests are injured by the unauthorised use of a business name may apply for an injunction banning further abuse of the business name and sue for damages if the unauthorised user is at fault.»
Duty to keep and archive ledgers, art. 957 CO

A person who is obliged to have his business name entered in the commercial register is obliged to keep and archive proper business ledgers of such scope and type as are necessary to indicate the financial situation of the business, the claims and debts arising from business operations and the results of each individual financial year.
